Norway in the War. No. 14.

BY G. F. WHELAN, ESQ.

The Rebels' great victory at the Chancellorsville Campaign, planned.

A second invasion of the North, and in the latter part of June 1863,

the Rebels were in motion toward freedom where it was fondly hoped that the Union Army would be beaten

by the Rebels, and the Confederacy

in a great battle and peace declared

NORTH BATH.

The cold weather has occasioned quite an exodus from the lakes. Frank Wilson of Oxford is at Mr. Kittredge Elliott's.

Mabel Elliott has been quite ill but is recovering.

Miss Alice Bryant has entirely recovered from her recent indisposition.

David Glens has two half Jersey heifers named Hampden and Buttery, only two years old and giving respectively ten quarts at a milking.

Willie Allen caught a pickerel in the lake that weighed three and a half pounds.

The young people of this vicinity enjoyed a picnic at Roxbury Island, Thursday. After having such excursions are the order of the day.

Mrs. Mary Bryant is deserving of much credit for the orderly and systematic manner in which her large farm is carried on. Here one of the finest farms along the Ellis.

Fred Perry and lady are at Preston Howard's.

Mrs. Wm. Pinney is visiting at Henry Abbott's. Miss Wren.

It is quite sickly at present throughout the village. Many of our citizens are prostrated and some considered dangerously ill. We think people should be more careful in their diet or in exposing themselves, especially at this time of the year.

A. F. Witham has closed his labors here. John Watson and is succeeded by W. W. Stephens of Auburn, who comes recommended as a first-class workman, and makes horse-shoeing a specialty.

The late frost destroyed most of the crops on the plains, which had not matured, but a thick fog bank settled over the village and prevented all damage.

Mrs. E. M. Caldwell lost a very nice cow the other day. The cow was found dead in Ellis Stone's pasture. Cause of death unknown.

John Watson, the blacksmith, has secured the services of a first-class shoe and general jobber.

The Baker Bros. store has moved into the new building on the corner of the village.

The first of September has come and the birds must look out.

Frank Koefie has moved back to town.

Newton Littlewood and his son, Harry, have gone to Deer Isle. J. H. Jones.

Geo. and Alfred Hobb, accompanied by Nellie, their sister, also J. R. French, L. A. French and Miss May French, left for the lakes Aug. 18.

Mrs. Frank Cox has been on medical treatment to Dr. Shattuck's Water Cure in Waterville.

Willie Abbott was taken very ill. He was carried to the asylum at Augusta, attended by F. M. Noble, overseer of the town.

Mrs. Horace Dineen and son are spending a few days at Rollin Town.

Three young men from this vicinity, accompanied by H. L. Libby from Vt., went on a fishing excursion up river last week. They reported a splendid time and plenty of fish.

Two meat carts are seen here every Tuesday, one from Greenwood and one from Union. Both are carrying, and get round first is the best fellow.

A blanket was lost between Noble's and Swift's Corner last Thursday. Any one who finds it, please bring it to the Advertiser's office will receive a favor on the spot.

The North Waterford defeated the Harris at Waterville Saturday, by a game of 30 to 2. This was the first game the North Waterford has played this season.

Arthur Chadburn, who has been teaching in Mass., is at W. L. Green's school with slow fever.

Rev. J. M. Follett and wife have returned from their vacation much improved in health and spirits.

Robinson Dean is making large improvements in his buildings.

C. H. Prince has replaced his store and where the lightning struck. He better have his chimney in next time before a shower.

Irvin's building at Good Templars has just had a large addition made to its library by the loan of about one hundred volumes by Prof. L. M. Robinson of Philadelphia. The loan is intended as a tribute to the memory of his father, the late E. F. Robinson. Appropriate recognition of the loan was made by the adoption of resolutions.

The rain August 30, disappointed many who were anticipating a trip to East Portland camp meeting.

S. H. Dudley is repairing his buildings with shingles and a coat of paint. Blinds will be added, which are a great improvement on his establishment.

Dr. Rounds of South Paris made us a call last week. The doctor, as usual, was in fine spirits.

Samuel Taylor has sold his nice lot to the True brotherly order.

O. S. Kreene's boarders are greatly and we presume, reluctantly leaving Meguire's Hill, for their different homes.

Mrs. A. M. Fernald has finished which has had two hundred blossoms on it at one time. Mr. F. has just completed a silo, which he intends to fill with ensilage and sweet corn.

Twilight.

Your correspondent had the pleasure of witnessing the game of ball on the 29th, between the Buckfields and the Cantons. The Cantons took the field at one o'clock. Buckfields at the last meeting, they were three times on the winning, then the Cantons were up and took until the fourth inning. Then the Buckfields did nothing.

The Cantons did some fine playing as did the Buckfields. The Cantons were too heavy a team for the Buckfields to play for the championship, they were out with a ten dollar bill to buy them. The Cantons defeated the Buckfields by one run more in the ninth than they had themselves, which was a half inning.

S. E. Everett made a great improvement in his place by moving back his yard fence, making more room.

Success seems to be doing nicely. Our Canton factory is doing well. Our Canton factory is doing well.

Corncripping begins this week for our Canton factory, two weeks earlier than usual. A fair crop is reported.

Old man's corn of Mass. is playing at the Oxford fair. It is a good keeper for a large establishment in Boston.

OTISFIELD GOLF.

As we pass through this neighborhood we notice several of the farmers repairing their buildings and making other improvements on and around their farms.

Lincoln has been repairing his barn, which was shattered by lightning. He has also placed a first-class watering place on the road-side which was much needed.

We noticed a sad havoc among the fruit trees made by the late frost. Several large trees, including the apple, pear and cherry, were killed.

Chas. H. Xenon has nearly finished his new barn.

W. P. Linnell has sold the poplar timber on the old orchard lot to Traflet and Andrews. The woods around the lake of the lake were sold by the late owner to the late owner.

George H. Watkins, editor of the Oxford Democrat, has been appointed to examine candidates for West Point, in the second Congressional district.

J. S. Wright, esq., was appointed, but being sojourning in the city, he was appointed to accept Mr. Watkins as a candidate for the office.

There was a runaway in our streets last week but no damage was reported.

The Oxford Baptist Association will hold its next meeting on this village, beginning September 9th. Among the preachers expected are Rev. J. M. Follett, Rev. C. E. Clark, and Rev. H. C. Estes, D. D.

The Baptist Sunday School had a large school for their picnic to North Waterford, on the 29th inst.

Ex-Governor Perham and daughter, Fannie, have been visiting Old Orchard.

The musical convention, closed with a concert Saturday night. The convention was assisted by the Hebron quartet, who rendered some very fine selections.

During the late great rain and high water the American Turbine wheel started up and made quite a rattling sound. The water was so high that one man said the water wheel was working out its notice.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi L. Bixby came from the city last Sunday. They attended the funeral of Mrs. Bixby's mother, Mrs. Penley.

Ade Penley has gone to Rumford to attend the funeral of her mother.

Harry G. Edmunds of Cambridge, Mass., was in town last week.

E. Gertrude Dudley went to Hebron Monday to attend school.

The Congregational Church, the 31st inst., by Alice Grover; pianist, Harry, have gone to Deer Isle.

The cold snap last week thinned out the summer boarders from our village. But if we are not greatly mistaken, there is considerable hot weather in the air.

The Universalist Church repeated "Red Ridinghood's Rescue" Wednesday evening.

Miss George Bird has gone to Harrison to learn the dress-maker's trade.

Wellington Bird is canvassing for "The Life of Grant."

There will be a public examination of the school on the 10th inst. at 10 o'clock p. m. at the town house. All teachers are requested to be present, who expect to teach fall terms.

Miss Polly Hobb has treated her house to a coat of paint.

M. E. Dunn has bought the Bogueham farm and moved on to the same. His removal has made a vacant house for the school.

Mr. Frank W. Howe of Lynn, Mass., with his family, was in town this week. He reports slow business here.

There was a very pleasant gathering at Mrs. Howe's one day this week. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Howe, and their family.
